PLEASURE IN READING

Advent Calendar

It's December again, which means it's time for the Advent calendar. Last year, we created our first Advent calendar filled with beautiful reading excerpts and read-aloud videos. Each day, a moment of calm with a lovely excerpt.

What makes it extra special is that various authors and illustrators contributed, and you can find their videos on the calendar. This year, you can join in from home, as weekends and holidays are included too.

There are two different versions of the calendar: one for middle primary grades and one for upper primary grades.

NEW BOOKS

New Books!
