PLEASURE IN READING

Advent Calendar

It's December again—which means it's time for our annual Advent Calendar! This year, we've once again put together a calendar filled with beautiful reading excerpts and read-aloud videos. In this often busy month, children and parents can enjoy a small moment of calm and relaxation each day.

What makes this year extra special is that several authors and illustrators have contributed to the calendar. They read a short passage from one of their own books. Many of these titles can also be found in our school library, so pupils can keep reading if their interest has been sparked.

And good news: you can join in at home again! The Advent Calendar also continues on weekends and during the holidays.

DIGITAL LITERACY

Need information for a class presentation?

Looking for information for a class talk or presentation? Start your search at Jeugdbieb.nl

Jeugdbieb is a curated collection of links to informative websites, reading tips, videos, apps, and podcasts for children—interesting and packed with facts and fun trivia. Jeugdbieb is a safe environment for kids. It also points to resources like questions from Willem Wever, videos from Schooltv, and episodes of Het Klokhuis.

TIP FROM THE LIBRARY

Cozy Winter Weeks at the Library!

From 8 December to 4 January, the library is transformed into a warm, wintry wonderland. Come experience it together with your children or grandchildren at the Library in Eindhoven, Waalre, or Best. Your child can craft, build, create, watch, and read to their heart's content.

There are fun activities for you as well. Let the many books inspire you together, and take a seat in the Library Café in De Witte Dame for a hot chocolate with something tasty on the side.
