

Dear Parents/carers,

Last weekend Sinterklaas was there again! And his pete's also visited the St@rtbaan. Reporter Deb is investigating a lot because strange things are happening again. If you also want to follow all the stories, like us on facebook or Instagram and stay up to date!

Decorations school

Last Tuesday evening, some parents helped the events committee decorate the school for the St Nicholas party. What a surprise that was for the children and teachers. The wrapping puppets did a great job and packed in stuff everywhere. It looks beautiful. Thank you for your help.

Groep 8 wins MediaMasters Price

Group 8 of master Jeroen participated in Media Masters. Not only did the group come out top in Brabant, they also came second in the Netherlands. Congratulations to all of them! Together they won an all-expense paid day trip to an educational escape room.

Toddlers visit Echt Welschap

Last week, the preschoolers opened the theme: 'We go out to eat' in a special way with a visit to tapas bar/lunchroom Echt Welschap. The children took a look at the kitchen, the bar and the restaurant itself. They even practised walking with a big tray. Thanks for all the interesting information. We are going to make a nice project out of it.

News from the healthy school!

On the pretext of 'let me do it myself', each group received three children's knives and a new cutting board. In this way, the children can now cut the school fruit themselves and the involvement in healthy eating is increased. They work together, are responsible and we promote independence. It also contributes to a good relationship with food. The knives are super handy to use and easy to clean. At school, we involve the children in the Healthy School as much as possible. At home, you can do the same. Let your child(ren) help as much as possible with shopping, make lists together, let children cut, wash fruit and vegetables or set the table. Doing the dishes together or loading and unloading the dishwasher already increases involvement. Is your child (or his siblings, for instance) not yet big enough to reach above the kitchen counter? You can very easily make a 'learning tower' yourself! Since children are naturally motivated to learn, a learning tower is a great way to involve - young- children in preparing meals.

Call to hand in vest for Reflection Day

Our school has had the Brabants Verkeersveiligheid Label (BVL) for many years and works structurally on traffic-safe behaviour. In the dark months of December and January, our school again participates in Reflection day.

Teachers give lessons on being visible in traffic and all children receive a reflective vest to wear when driving in traffic.

As we are committed to sustainability, we think it is important to reuse last year's vests that are still good.

Please hand in the vests to your child's teacher before Friday 25 November. Please write your child's name on the vest.

The kick-off of Reflection day is on Thursday 1 December.

Kind regards,

Team Reflection day

Have a great weekend,

Team St@rtbaan
