

NEWS FROM YOUR MEDIACOACH

Lianne Laureijsen
November 2022

PLEASURE IN READING

Like & Cancel

The Week of the Media Literacy ("Week van de Mediawijsheid") will be held from 4-11 November 2022. Its theme will be 'Like and Cancel', and it's about stimulating social behaviour online.

To guide children in the online world it is most important to keep in touch with them. But as a parent how do you start a conversation about this subject? Together with MediaSmarties we gathered several tips for parents with children in the age of 8-12 to give a heads up. The stories (on- and offline) are all recommended to read, watch, listen or play AND it is a nice occasion to have a conversation.

#week 4t/m11
vdmedia nov
wijsheid 2022

DIGITAL LITERACY

Hoezo mediawijs?!

Are you searching for reliable information about fun, clever and safe use of (social) media? The website hoezomediawijs.nl is made to do exactly that. As a parent you can use this site together with your child. You can find information, videos, a media dictionary, and a quiz.

TIP OF THE LIBRARY

Hackshield in the Library: battle with fake news!

Becoming digitally resilient in a playful way, that's the main goal of the interactive game HackShield in the Library: a new AR-game for kids in the age of 8-12. Through an exiting game they learn the hazards of the internet and they develop skills to cope with those hazards. Together with the main character Lux the players learn to recognise disinformation and fake news. Each player is trained to be a Cyber Agent who can defend him-/herself and his/her environment of online hazard!

This event is free to attend but signing up via this link is necessary.