FUN IN READING

Children's Book Week 2023:

At My Home

This year's Children's Book Week from Oct. 4 to 15 has the theme: At My Home. Everyone's home is different. This Children's Book Week, we celebrate home in all its forms, with all its differences and similarities. Books spark conversation about the theme At My Home. Books are an inexhaustible source of different points of view. We can learn so much from each other, read along!

A wonderful themed collection has been added to the school collections. Take a quick look in your school library.

DIGITAL LITERACY

The Reading corner

Reading aloud a lot improves story comprehension and is good for language development. Reading aloud also provides a relaxing and cozy moment with your child.

If you want to alternate reading aloud with a movie, you can use the The Reading Corner. On this site you will find videos of book being read aloud suitable for different ages: 0-4, 4-7 and 7-10 in Dutch, English, Moroccan, Syrian, Polish, Turkish. Especially for Children's Book Week there is the playlist 'At home'. Want to know how to log in for free with your library account? Watch this video.

TIP FROM THE LIBRARY

Starting from the Children's Book Week and all throughout the autumn holidays, it's partytime at the library!

Take part in the fun activities in the theme 'At My Home'. During the Bieb Family Festival from October 4 to 22, your child can do crafts, build, make, watch and read to his or her heart's content - all around the Children's Book Week theme 'At My Home'. Book your tickets to be sure of a place.

Come to the Big Festive Day in Eindhoven and Waalre on Sunday, October 15! Click here for more information. Will you and your child(ren) be attending?
